

McConachie Stedman Comment Policy

McConachie Stedman welcomes you to follow our social media, and would like to thank you for your support. Our firm participates in social media in order to engage with individuals and organisations in the community, by providing daily feeds and information regarding our business, and the range of services provided.

Important Notice

By participating or commenting on the social media pages of McConachie Stedman you agree to these rules of participation. If you do not agree with these rules, you must not access these pages.

The following information is intended to help foster professional, helpful community interaction. Participants are required to abide by these rules of participation.

While we encourage our followers to share thoughts and opinions on our social media pages, we expect this will be done in a respectful manner.

McConachie Stedman does not agree with or endorse every comment that individuals or organisations post on our pages. Our goal is to share our news and information with as many as possible and our policy is to accept the majority of comments made to our profile. Apart from any condition or warranty expressly required by law, McConachie Stedman provides no warranty and makes no claim in relation to the performance on our social media. In the event of any breach of a statutory condition or warranty, McConachie Stedman's liability is limited to the fullest extent permitted by law. You assume the risk of reading and acting upon information from any postings made on social media by other users.

McConachie Stedman is not responsible or liable to you for any loss or damage caused by use of our social media, reliance on information obtained or otherwise arising from unauthorised, inaccurate or unlawful content.

McConachie Stedman reserves the right to enforce compliance with these rules. All comments posted on McConachie Stedman social media will be reviewed and may be deleted. Behaviours deemed inconsistent with these rules will result in the author being blocked or the removal of some or all of the comments made on our social media pages.

The following are examples of violations and would result in immediate action being taken:

- Violating any laws, these rules or infringing any third party rights;
- Hate speech;
- Profanity, obscenity or vulgarity;
- Nudity in profile pictures;
- Defamation to an individual or organisation;
- Name calling and/or personal attacks;
- Comments whose main purpose are to sell a product;
